a little something about me

I'm a spanish passionate developer and designer who likes to have fun at work while being productive. I was born on 1983 in Bern (Switzerland) but I grew up in Spain. I started soon (around 11 years old) to have interest about programming and new technologies, and always wanted to be an engineer to contribute to make a better world.

Today I'm trying to make this dream come to reality. Help me help you.
